

High-quality, affordable mitomycin

Affordable mitomycin syringes prepared by the industry leader in hazardous compounding

Improve wound healing and reduce scarring¹

Mitomycin has many uses for glaucoma and cornea surgeons:

- + Reduces scarring after trabeculectomy procedures
- + Inhibits DNA synthesis to help treat ocular surface tumors
- + Reduces the chances of recurrent growths after pterygium surgery

Prescribe with confidence

Our facilities, people and processes all go beyond industry standards to produce prescriptions of the highest quality and sterility.

- + Every mitomycin syringe is compounded in our state-of-the-art hazardous materials compounding suite—one of the first and only USP <800> compliant ophthalmics cleanroom in the country
- + All prescriptions are prepared by highly trained pharmacists
- + We follow industry-leading quality processes, including advanced cleaning and decontamination procedures and extensive hazardous materials safety training for our staff
- + Every sterile syringe has a Safety Lock Tip to reduce the risk of spills and features a Closed System Transfer Device that prevents hazardous drug exposure when filling or administering the syringe
